12:00-1:00 p.m.

TLTDC Conference Room

The Network for Excellence in Teaching (NET) will continue its Teaching Scholars program for a fourth year. This is a year-long program designed to focus on scholarly inquiry into teaching and learning. All full time faculty and instructional academic staff are eligible and invited to apply to participate in the program during academic year 2005-06.

Application deadline: April 1, 2005

The TIE Fellows program is designed to provide faculty and instructional academic staff the opportunity to enhance student learning with instructional technology and to share their experiences and lessons learned with others across campus and across higher education. This call for proposals is for Summer 2005 and the 2005-06 academic year.

Application deadline: April 1, 2005
