Employee-Manager Conversation
Role Play

NOTE: UW-MADISON AND UW SYSTEM WILL DIFFER IN MEETING SPECIFICS. THIS IS A GENERAL DISCUSSION OF MINIMUM RECOMMENDED ELEMENTS.

UW-MADISON: CONFIRM – CREATE – ENGAGE  |  UW SYSTEM: CONFIRM – ENGAGE - ACT
Sample Meeting Agenda

✓ STEP 1 CONFIRM - Review employee’s updated information & core job functions; how their daily work relates to the department/unit’s overall objectives
  - Job Group/Family & Job Sub-Group/Sub-Family
  - Job Title & Job Description
  - Do you agree with the employee’s updated job title and job description based on the core function of their job? Why or why not?

✓ STEP 2 ENGAGE - Listen for employee concerns and/or career goals
  - Note action items to follow up on; schedule follow up meeting if needed

✓ STEP 3 ACT - Document outcome of employee-manager conversation
Step 1 - Confirm

Before the Conversation – Manager

- Review employee’s current and future job title and job description, and any other associated jobs in their Job Group/Family or Sub-Group/Sub-Family
- Prep your response to employee’s expected reaction
- Ensure if employee’s job title is changing significantly that you can communicate employee’s: role, expectations, scope of responsibility, and autonomy

NOTE: a justification for an employee’s job assignment will not be provided, so familiarize yourself with your employee’s job and any related jobs using their current position description and online job library.

Before the Conversation – Employee

- Review your current job description and jobs in the online job library

Role Play: Dan preps for the upcoming conversation with Lauren
