

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SYSTEM BOARD OF REGENTS DIVERSITY AWARD

2017 GUIDELINES AND SELECTION CRITERIA

NOMINATION DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 18, 2016

THE AWARD

On behalf of the UW System Board of Regents, the Office of the Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs invites each institution to submit nominations for the 2017 UW System Board of Regents Diversity Award.

The purpose of this award is to recognize institutional change agents who have established a successful record in fostering greater access and success for students who are members of historically underrepresented populations (including African Americans, American Indians, Latinos/Hispanics, Asian Americans, and Southeast Asians), first-generation and/or economically disadvantaged. Established by the Board of Regents during Plan 2008, the award signifies the Board's commitment to "...achieving educational diversity at all UW System institutions... in order to fully develop advanced human potential, the jobs that employ that potential, and the flourishing of communities that sustain it," (UW System Board of Regents Resolution # 8970¹). This commitment continued in the Inclusive Excellence framework.

Up to three awards of $5,000 each will be made to individuals, programs, and/or institutional units in recognition of their exceptional efforts in fostering greater equity and diversity across their institutions and communities. The funds for these awards are designated to support individualized professional development or continuing programmatic activities. Award recipients will be publicly recognized on February 3, 2017 at the UW System Board of Regents meeting in Madison.

NOMINEE CATEGORIES

UW institutions may submit one nomination per category for a maximum of three nominations per institution. Each nomination must provide evidence of outcomes and impacts. The categories include:

- Individual – Any individual affiliated with the UW System and its institutions, including but not limited to, faculty, staff, and students.
- Team – Any joint endeavor or groups operating collaboratively on a program or initiative within the larger institutional community. Teams are not limited to formal organizational units.
- Institution/Unit – A college, academic/support department, or student, faculty, or staff organization recognized as a bona-fide group within an institution.

SELECTION CRITERIA

The Board of Regents encourages the nomination of individuals, teams or units that have established a successful record in fostering greater access and success for students who are members of historically underrepresented populations (including African Americans, American Indians, Latinos/Hispanics, Asian Americans, and Southeast Asians), first-generation and/or economically disadvantaged. Nominations which fail to meaningfully address efforts fostering greater access and success for students who are members of underrepresented populations, first-generation, and/or economically disadvantaged will not be considered.

Each nomination must provide evidence of outcomes and impacts on the eligible population(s), disaggregating data where appropriate. In addition, The Board of Regents will select the award recipients based on qualitative and/or quantitative evidence of outcomes/impacts using all of the following criteria:

- 1) Sustainable positive impact on equity and diversity, leading to positive institutional change.
- 2) Accountability demonstrated through routine assessment and use of feedback loops to promote forward movement on equity and diversity goals.
- 3) Intersections across multiple dimensions of diversity.
- 4) Collaborations with other units, departments, or communities, both within the institution and beyond.

Reflecting the broad range of activities that foster access and success for students from diverse backgrounds, the following focus areas serve as a guide in identifying the types of exemplary efforts appropriate for this award:

- Improved student academic performance through efforts grounded in theories, concepts, and/or methodologies that enhance diversity and advance equity, social justice, multiculturalism, educational reform, and/or inclusion.
- Effective initiatives or efforts aimed at closing opportunity and equity gaps² for underrepresented students. This may include work aimed at closing opportunity or equity gaps among students within specific disciplines, such as teacher education or science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), or using pedagogies,

² Historically, the nomenclature of “achievement gap” has been used to describe the disparity in academic performance between groups. Education scholars such as Estela Bensimon, have pushed for a more critical analysis of student success which reframes the discussion of unequal outcomes from an emphasis on student deficits to a matter of institutional responsibility. Placing blame on student deficits or disparities in educational outcomes does not acknowledge the various factors outside of students’ control which impact not only outcomes, but also students’ starting points, such as access to resources. Therefore, there has been a shift in what has historically been called the “achievement gap” as discussed in academia, moving instead towards the nomenclature of opportunity gaps and equity gaps to describe educational disparities between groups.

Opportunity and equity gaps refer to the ways in which race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, and other factors contribute and perpetuate inequitable access to resources/opportunities and outcomes for certain groups. More specifically, opportunity gaps refer to disparities in inputs for students from underrepresented and underserved backgrounds -- to the inequitable distribution and access to quality educational resources and opportunities all students need to be successful. Equity gaps refer to disparities in outputs for students from underrepresented and underserved backgrounds -- to the inequitable distribution of educational outcomes and benefits.

concepts, and practices that enhance diversity and advance equity, social justice, multiculturalism, educational reform, and/or inclusion.

- Increased retention and degree attainment among students who are members of historically underrepresented populations (including African Americans, American Indians, Latinos/Hispanics, Asian Americans, and Southeast Asians), first-generation and/or economically disadvantaged.
- Evidence of an established record of achievement in personal or professional development efforts related to advising, mentoring, recruitment, retention, promotion and graduation of underrepresented faculty, staff or students.
- Demonstrated K-16 pipeline efforts, such as precollege and bridge programs, that enhance/improve the college readiness of young adults who reside in Wisconsin.
