

University of Oregon alert process for faculty

Shared June 2021 via EAB Community:

The University of Oregon uses this basic Qualtrics form, and then has a case manager (who is an advisor) create the alert (and case) in Navigate. University of Oregon faculty who are not faculty advisors don't use Navigate, and the institution wanted to be able to guide them through the process and vet the submissions a bit, so the group decided on this process.
