UW SYSTEM FALL 2017 ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR TRANSFER APPLICANTS

This chart is designed to provide a brief overview of admission requirements. It should never be used as the sole advising tool for transfer applicants. Transfer applications are evaluated through a comprehensive, individualized review process. Academic information considered includes your post-secondary records, such as GPA, and may also include your high school records, standardized test scores, and/or other relevant information. In cases where a campus has a stated grade point average, it is the minimum for consideration and does not guarantee admission. In some cases, admission to the institution does not guarantee admission to the major. Only those majors with GPA requirements above the GPA requirement for admission to the institution are listed in the second column. A complete listing for majors requiring GPAs above the minimum is included in Appendix VI. The high school record may be used in the admission decision for those students that have less than 15 credits. Individual institutions should be contacted to provide detailed information about course sequence, grade point average and other admission requirements.

The UW System undergraduate transfer policy states that preference for admission will be given to UW Colleges transfers and other UW System transfers from institutions where a major is not available, subject to the limits of an institution's enrollment target. All UW System institutions have Guaranteed Transfer agreements with the UW Colleges. Students admitted under these agreements should follow the requirements of the agreement. The stipulations of these agreements are not included in this chart. The requirements and dates listed on this chart may be modified due to changing enrollment demands. Please refer to UW HELP Online (uwhelp.Wisconsin.edu) for current information.

APPENDIX I - MINIMUM GPA AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS IN SELECTED PROGRAMS/MAJORS
(UW-MADISON)

This section offers a brief synopsis of requirements for the most frequently asked about majors. Any majors not listed here may differ in course sequence and grade point average requirements. Please consult other majors' departmental websites for more detailed information.

NOTE: Grade point averages noted below refer only to requirements for currently enrolled UW-Madison students interested in applying to the respective programs. They are not qualifications for assured admission to the University.

BUSINESS – Students transferring to UW-Madison for the spring semester must complete a minimum of 12 credits in residence at UW-Madison, as well as any remaining Pre-Business courses to be eligible for admission for the following fall semester to the Bachelor of Business Administration program (BBA). These requirements must be completed or in the process of being completed at the time of application to the BBA Program: https://wsb.wisc.edu/programs-degrees/undergraduate-bba/admissions/uw-madison-students/check-eligibility.

Direct Transfer Admission: (Available for fall semester transfers only)
Students may apply for direct transfer admission into the BBA program at the same time they apply for admission to UW-Madison if they are transferring from a UW-System school (both two and four year) or one of the Wisconsin Technical Colleges. Out-of-state applicants must complete 12 credits in residence at UW-Madison before applying to the BBA program in the spring semester. Please note the application deadlines for both the UW-Madison and Wisconsin School of Business. Students will have two opportunities to apply to the BBA program as long as 86 credits are not exceeded. Admission decisions are based on the completion of pre-business courses, cumulative GPA, and non-academic strengths such as leadership, community service, and other life experiences. Admission is competitive due to enrollment limitations. Students will be notified of their acceptance in early summer: https://wsb.wisc.edu/programs-degrees/undergraduate-bba/admissions - admissions-path-3-reveal.

Specific information on the application to the BBA is available at this link: https://wsb.wisc.edu/programs-degrees/undergraduate-bba/admissions/uw-madison-students/prepare-application-materials.

Questions can be directed to our Pre-Business Advisors, at prebusadvising@wsb.wisc.edu or 608-262-0471.

ENGINEERING – Students who have made an informed decision to pursue engineering and have not earned more than 80 transferable semester credits may apply for transfer admission to the College of Engineering. Individuals who have already earned an undergraduate degree are not eligible to apply.

To apply:
Transfer students must specify which one of the 12 undergraduate engineering programs they are intending on their university application. The Office of Admissions and Recruitment evaluates all transfer applications to the College of Engineering and selects students for direct admission in their intended engineering program. Admission is selective and competitive. To be considered for program admission, students must meet the UW-Madison transfer admission requirements and have satisfied as many of the requirements as possible shown in the General College Requirements for Off-Campus Students:
https://www.engr.wisc.edu/app/uploads/2016/01/General_College_Requirements_for_Off_Campus_Transfer_Students-1.pdf.

After application:
Soon after notification of admission to the College of Engineering, students who have satisfied the General College Requirements for Off-Campus Students before transfer will be invited to submit a supplemental application to their intended program. If the application is approved, they may continue in their program needing to fulfill only the graduation requirements after transfer.

Students who do not fulfill the progression requirements before transfer must do so after transfer and within two semesters in residency. They must now also meet engineering major GPA benchmarks: https://www.engr.wisc.edu/academics/student-services/academic-advising/first-year-undergraduate-students/progression-requirements/. They may then continue fulfilling graduation requirements for their program.

APPENDIX I - MINIMUM GPA AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS IN SELECTED PROGRAMS/MAJORS

For students admitted to other schools and colleges at UW-Madison, admission to the College of Engineering is a limited enrollment option. Because admission to all programs is competitive and selective, admission is not guaranteed. See the "Cross-Campus Student" section: https://www.engr.wisc.edu/academics/student-services/academic-advising/cross-campus-students/.

For a more detailed explanation of the transfer admission process to the College of Engineering, see the website for off-campus transfer students: https://www.engr.wisc.edu/academics/student-services/academic-advising/transfer-students/. See the School of Education section of the undergraduate catalog (http://pubs.wisc.edu/ug/education_Programs.htm) for more detailed information regarding application criteria, procedures and the selection process.

JOURNALISM – Admission is competitive and is based on a variety of academic and nonacademic factors. 120 students are admitted each fall and spring semester. Transfers must complete one semester at UW-Madison to establish a UW-Madison GPA prior to applying to the major. Students must have earned a minimum of 24 credits either at UW-Madison or via transfer credit from another college degree program, and meet journalism course prerequisites before starting the Journalism major. For more information visit https://journalism.wisc.edu/undergraduate/admissions/information-for-transfer-students/.

MUSIC – Requires an audition completed in the year prior to admission. See http://www.music.wisc.edu/undergraduate-admissions/ for audition dates, application deadlines, and additional information. Prospective transfer music students should transfer to UW-Madison as early as possible in their degree program, preferably applying and auditioning during the first year. Transfer students are admitted as preliminary music students and must complete all required core academic music courses and at least one semester at UW-Madison to establish a UW-Madison GPA before being admitted to a specific major/degree program in the School of Music. Minimum GPA required for declaration of major depends on desired degree program in music. Bachelor of Music degree programs (Performance and Education majors) require 2.75 cumulative GPA, 3.00 all-music GPA, and 2.50 theory/history GPA. The liberal arts music major with performance option requires minimum GPAs of 2.00: cumulative, all-music, and theory/history. The theory and history options within the liberal arts music major are under review and may be discontinued or changed. During this time, we are not admitting new students to these options.

NURSING – Students must apply for admission to the nursing program in addition to their application to University of Wisconsin-Madison. The application cycle runs once a year with the application opening on December 1 and due February 1 for admission to the program the following fall semester. Applicants submit personal information, academic/educational history, activities and accomplishments, and several personal statements as part of the BS-Nursing program application. While we only admit to the nursing program for the fall term, transfer students can apply for spring admission to UW-Madison and come to campus as a pre-nursing student. Admission to the nursing major is competitive and selective. In a typical year, 350-400 students apply for approximately 150 spots in the incoming cohort. While the School of Nursing has a minimum cumulative and prerequisite GPA of 2.75 for application, students who are most competitive for admission typically carry an average cumulative and prerequisite GPA of 3.5.

In order to be considered for admission to the nursing program, the following academic requirements must be met: (1) complete a minimum of 54 degree credits of previous college work by the end of the spring semester prior to the fall term of application, (2) with a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75 in all college-level coursework at the time of application and at the end of the spring semester prior to fall nursing admission; (3) complete 7 prerequisite courses with a combined GPA of at least 2.75 (Note: four of the seven prerequisites must be complete by the end of the fall semester prior to admission; three of the seven prerequisites can be in-progress during the spring semester prior to admission). All prerequisites must be completed by the end of spring semester to remain eligible for fall admission. To review the prerequisite courses and additional information on the admissions process, please visit www.son.wisc.edu/491.htm.

PHARMACY – The Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) program meets the educational requirement for licensure as a registered pharmacist. The B.S. Pharmacology & Toxicology program, which does NOT meet the educational requirement for licensure as a registered pharmacist, is also offered.

Pharm.D. – Sixty-eight credits of specified pre-pharmacy course work, and other items, including the Pharmacy College Admission Test (PCAT) scores and a variety of non-academic criteria, are required for consideration. Admission is competitive because there are many more applicants than available spaces in the program. A number of factors are considered. To better serve our Pharm.D. applicants, the University of Wisconsin–Madison participates in PharmCAS (Pharmacy College Application Service). In addition to PharmCAS, there is a school specific supplemental application. The application deadline (for both the PharmCAS and supplemental application) will be in early January 2017 for fall 2017 admission.

Bachelor of Science, Pharmacology & Toxicology – Sixty credits of specified prerequisite course work, and other items, are required for consideration. Admission is competitive for this junior-senior curricular sequence. A number of factors are considered; academic achievement is the central criterion. For details, see https://pharmacy.wisc.edu/programs/pharm-tox/admissions/selection-criteria/. All materials must be submitted by the deadline of February 15, 2017 for fall 2017 admission.

Admittance to both programs is for fall semester entrance only. Please note that application deadlines and other information are subject to change. For the most current information and/or application materials, please consult our website at pharmacy.wisc.edu or contact the Student & Academic Affairs Office via email (pharminfo@pharmacy.wisc.edu) or phone (608-262-6234).

Art & Design - The Department of Art & Design requires all incoming freshmen and transfer students to submit a portfolio for review. Contact the Director of the First Year Program at (414) 229-4200 with any questions or concerns. Or visit our website: arts.uwm.edu/artdesign for more information. To be considered for scholarships, the recommended portfolio submission deadline is December 1st for spring terms. Scholarship information: arts.uwm.edu/artdesign/scholarships

Upon acceptance to UWM, transfer students will be classified as Art-Intended or Art Ed-Intended until they have achieved a 2.5 GPA in both courses transferred and required Art & Design First Year level courses, which are as follows:

First Year Program: 18 credits

Art 101 Basic Drawing I
Art 102 Basic Drawing II
Art 106 Art Survey

Art 118 Digital Arts: Culture, Theory, Practice

Art-Intended and Art Ed-Intended students must also fulfill the university-wide English and Math proficiency requirements before they can matriculate as BFA or BA degree candidates.

Dance - An audition is required for entrance into the dance major (BA, BFA or Inter-Arts Dual Discipline). Dates are scheduled during the fall, spring, and summer terms. Once accepted, students may enter the program at any time, but are strongly encouraged to enter in the fall term to progress most logically through the BA or BFA curricular sequence. The audition consists of classes in modern and ballet technique and African Dance or Jazz; a one-minute solo; and a writing exercise about each student's artistic interests and goals.

However, if a student has been admitted to another institution's dance program, and cannot attend the required entrance audition, the following materials must be submitted for dance faculty consideration:

1. Work Sample DVD or URLs: must include 5-10 minutes of technique class, and 2-3 minutes of performance/choreography (solo preferred). URLs should be included in the Online Survey (see below); DVDs must be submitted to the Dance Office in Mitchell 345

2. Online Survey that collects a variety of information, including a Statement of Purpose (why are you choosing to pursue dance at UW-Milwaukee), your Contact Information, Educational and Artistic History, and Work Sample Descriptions. Access at https://milwaukee.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_1TvHcrCzYfCeqXj
3. College transcripts, if transferring from another university, and copy of the admission letter if available

APPENDIX II - MINIMUM GPA AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS IN SELECTED PROGRAMS/MAJORS

APPENDIX V – ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS TRANSFERING TO UW FLEXIBLE OPTION
BACHELOR OF SCIENCE - BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM (BSBA)
UW-EXTENSION

The UW Flexible Option Bachelor of Science in Business Administration is an online, self-paced, competency-based program. Competencies are awarded credit equivalents to support transfer to other institutions and to meet accreditation requirements. Terms (called subscription periods) are three months in length and students may begin their studies in any given month. Applications may be submitted as early as five months in advance and applicant files must be completed (all supporting materials received) no later than one month prior to start.

The BSBA program consists of three categories of competencies or combinations of competencies and courses: the degree requirements (65 equivalent credits), general education requirements (30 equivalent credits), and electives (25 equivalent credits), for a total of 120 credit equivalencies. Mastery of all BSBA competencies must be demonstrated within the BSBA program, while general education requirements and electives may be met in a variety of ways:

1. All BSBA General Education requirements and all BSBA electives will be met by any of the following:
   - Earned bachelor's degree or master's degree from a regionally-accredited institution
   - Successful completion of the UW Colleges Associate of Arts and Sciences Degree (AAS)
   - Successful completion of a liberal arts associate degree from a regionally-accredited institution

2. Successful completion of general education requirements through prior post-secondary study
   Transcripts for students with some college-level academic work but no qualifying degree as defined above will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis to determine if prior academic work satisfies general education or BSBA elective requirements. Any remaining general education or BSBA elective requirements may be satisfied through academic work offered by UW Colleges UW Flexible Option selections, additional transfer work having appropriate UW-Extension competency equivalency, or through credit-by-examination with College Level Examination Program (CLEP).

3. Credit by examination
   The UW-Extension BSBA program honors some learning credentials earned through examination. Students may have prior experiences that qualify for credit equivalents in their degree program. This prior knowledge may be gained through non-credit adult courses, job training, independent reading and study, and advanced high school courses. For such students, UW-Extension allows transfer of academic work that is verified through examinations offered by Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), College Level Examination Program (CLEP), and Dantes/DSST. Students who successfully complete these exams may transfer credit equivalents to UW-Extension. Depending on the subject area and the exam, the credit equivalents may count toward general education or elective credit requirements. A list of credit equivalents that students can earn toward the BSBA degree through AP, IB, CLEP, Dantes/DSST examinations can be found in the Credit by Examination Table.

4. Recognition of prior learning
   The Flexible Option BSBA program does recognize prior academic work that is documented through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), College Board Advanced Placement examinations (AP), International Baccalaureate examinations (IB), military study programs, and ACE credit recommendations.
